

Basic Detail Report

Sage-Femmes. Mme. de la Piçonnérie, accoucheuse jurée, prend des pensionnaires à juste prix. [Midwives. Madame de la Piçonnérie, certified midwife, takes in lodgers for a fair price.] from the series Caricatures politiques, number 56, published in Le Charivari

Date

July 7, 1833

Primary Maker

Honoré Daumier

Medium

Lithograph on newsprint

Description

This print shows an unattractive man, with tufts of hair sprouting from either side of his head, a bulbous discolored nose, small eyes, a pinched mouth, and a double chin, holding a crying infant swaddled in a white blanket. The man is dressed as a general, complete with epaulettes on his shoulders, a military insignia on his chest, tall black boots, and a sword hanging by his side.

Dimensions

Object Size: 10 1/2 x 7 5/8 inches